Girl given one-in-four chance of surviving cancer amazes doctors

THE family of a five-year-old girl diagnosed with a very rare form of life-threatening cancer are celebrating after doctors gave her the all-clear.

Matt and Julia Weir were told their daughter Maisie had just a one-in-four chance of survival by doctors after a lump in her neck was identified as an aggressive Rhabdoid tumour last June.

But after six different chemotherapy treatments and a course of radiotherapy, a recent MRI scan showed the growth had disappeared.

snowed the growth had disappeared.

Doctors broke the good news to Matt and Julia, of Fold Croft, Harlow, last Wednesday.

Julia (40) said: "I was absolutely petrified as we were told there was nothing more they could do for her. Only three people in the UK are diagnosed with this cancer every year so not much money is spent on research. Doctors didn't know what to do so they just three wereything at her.

"She shouldn't have really made it but heldily.

"She shouldn't have really made it but luckily enough it worked for her. It hasn't really sunk in yet."

Maisie, a pupil at Hare Street School, will now have to go for regular check-ups and is likely to need a shoulder operation later in life to alleviate the side effects of radiation.

"She has been very poorly at times and it's been quite sad but each time she kept bouncing back like a little bulldog!" said Julia.

"She's a tomboy and I think that's what has got her through it. Now there is no stopping her.

Various fundraising events have been held during the past year to help the family meet travelling costs to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge and a family holiday.

Matt and Julia are planning to take Maisie and her sister Charley-Ann (6) to Disneyland Paris in August.

Matt, a lorry driver, said: "We'd like to thank all our family and friends for their support and every-body else who has been involved in fundraising. "We'd also like to thank everyone on Dolphin Ward in Princess Alexandra Hospital and at Addenbrooke's, as well as the community doctors and nurses.

"Without everyone's fantastic support, we wouldn't have this fantastic result."

Julia added: "Everyone has been so supportive.

How do you thank everyone who has been propping us up?
"Everyone has been so nice and it feels like the community has pulled together for her. It's really overwhelming."

Skate club fury at Leisurezone 'ban'

A YOUTH sports club in Harlow could be disbanded after being told it would not be allowed to train at the longawaited Leisurezone complex.

Members of the Demon Skater Hockey Club held their final training session at Harlow Sportcentre last Wednesday after using the venue for more than 15 years.

Despite being involved in consultations over the new multi-million pound centre, the club has been told by the Harlow & District Sports Trust that it cannot transfer its training sessions to the Second Avenue location like other local clubs.
Club member John Bruce-Jones said: "We've been told that our sport will damage the fabric of the place, mainly because the puck we use can travel at high speed.

"It is very sad because we used to have a big membership but we have suffered from the uncertainty surrounding the Sportcentre.

The bombshell was dropped by the trust in January and Mr Bruce-Jones said he believed they were the

"We've been involved in the consultation and there has been no indication up until January that we would not be taken in," he said.

"What was the point of the con-sultation if our needs were not going

The club's cause has been taken by Harlow councillor Joel Charles, who wrote to the trust asking them to reconsider their posi-

Delay-hit centre will open later this month

WARLOW'S new state-of-the-art leisure centre will finally open to the public on Wednesday June 23.

Work on the £25m Leisurezone has been hit by a number of setbacks resulting in an original opening date of October last year being pushed back.

But Harlow & District Sports Trust has now announced that the leisure centre – described as the jewel in the crown of the £50m Harlow Gateway scheme – is on track to open later this Facilities include a sports hall, indoor tennis centre, two swimming pools, a state-of-the-art gym, fitness studios and an interactive science centre.

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson said marrow council leader Andrew Johnson said the new centre would be the envy of neighbour-ing towns, adding: "It puts Harlow back at the forefront of sporting provision in the region." Pat Hay, chairman of the tust, added: "The sporting and leisure opportunities at Harlow Leisurezone are absolutely outstanding and it will be one of the best facilities in the country.

Teenager pulled from lake loses fight for life

A TEENAGER rescued last week from lake in Nazeing has died in hospital.

Lawrence Patnell (18), from Harlow, was pulled from the water after friends saw him disappear beneath the surface after he had gone swimming in the central lagoon at Nazeing Meads.

He lost his five-day fight for life at Princess Alexandra Hospital last Thursday afternoon.

Floral tributes were left at the scene of the tragedy and a Facebook group in his memory has attracted nearly 500 members, sharing memories and tributes.

One read: "RIP Lawrence, my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family at this very difficult time, gone far too soon. Another friend wrote: "The first star I see the biggest and brightest star of them all, I know that that's you looking down on us and guiding us all the way."

Conference trip cost was money well spent says council leader

THE leader of cash-strapped Harlow Council this week justified the decision to go to Greece for a European new town conference at a cost of Andrew Johnson and a regeneration manager travelled to Athens last Wednesday before returning on Friday.

The cost to the council of attending the conference and accommodation was £650 while economyclass flights with British Airways totalled £327.

Mr Johnson was attending the general assembly meeting of the European New Towns Platform in his role as president.

According to the council, the authority will recoup the cost of the trip

ANDREW JOHNSON

through a reduction in membership fees to the organisation.

This week Mr Johnson said he was simply "going where the money is" as the group helps Harlow win European funding.

'As we face these tough economic conditions, with inevitable reductions in public spending, it is vital we find other ways to tackle the issues important to the people and businesses of Harlow.

"Europe remains an important source of project funding and I am committed to ensuring that Harlow gets access to that However, news of the trip came as a surprise to Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson.

"Councillor Johnson came to power promising open, transparent governance so why have fellow councillors and the people of Harlow not been told about this?" he said.

"Why would you keep something like this a secret unless there was something to hide?

"I am not aware of any advantage to our member ship of this group and I'd have to question the amount of money it costs."

According to the council, Harlow has secured funding of £580,000 from Europe since joining the group while at the same time paying out just under £20,000 in subscription fees.

"Most European Union require trans-national partners and the ENTP provides a ready made network of interested new towns which face common which face common issues," said Mr Johnson.

Borneo-bound Charlotte's set for jungle trek

By DAN PHILLIPS daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW College student will be dusting down her rucksack and breaking in her walking boots as she prepares to take part in a jungle trek later this year.

Charlotte Vowden (21) hopes to raise more than £1,000 for the East Hertsbased Isabel Hospice when she takes part in the five-day Borneo challenge in September.

"I'm a hotel-and-hot-water kind of girl so I wanted to do something for charity that would take me completely out of my comfort zone," said Charlotte, who is studying journalism at the college.

"Isabel Hospice helps so many people and the least I can do is brave the jungle and the creepy crawlies within it to help them."

Charlotte, who hs taken part in a number of previous fundraising challenges, added: "I lost my grandmother to cancer last year so this cause is very dear to me.

"Isabel Hospice is such a wonderful organisation that supports patients, friends and families through really tough times.

Charlotte, who lives in Cheshunt, will be walking in temperatures of up to 32C for seven hours a day. At at night she will be sleeping on a wooden platform protected by a

She is recording her preparation for the tough physical challenge in an online blog.

"I will be trekking with a group and we have arranged to go for a few long walks in preparation," she said.

"I've also been upping my exercise with morning runs and a few more sessions in the gym. I don't want to be left behind in the jungle!'

Charlotte, who is paying for the trip herself, will also be spending three days in a remote jungle village to assist the local community with a development project.

Family fun day in aid hospice

A CHARITY fun day and fivea-side football tournament takes place at the United Glass Social Club on Sunday in memory of Harlow man Dave Cook, who died of cancer last

Mr Cook's widow, Debbie, is planning to take part in a walk along the Great Wall of China in aid of Hastingwood-based St Clare Hospice.

Proceeds from the fun day will go towards the cost of taking part in the trek and Macmillan Cancer Support. Mr Cook's niece, Julia Thurman, said: "Dave's aim was always to raise funds for St Clare Hospice but unfortunately he didn't last to

As well as the football tournament there there will be a bouncy castle and a gladiator podium, on which visitors can pit their guile and tenacity against a muscle-bound warrior.

Edna's ready to tackle Britain's highest peak

FORMER Harlow Council chairwoman Edna Stevens is planning to climb the highest mountain in Britain to raise money for the Wych Elmbased charity Caring for Harlow Young Carers.

Mrs Stevens (75), of Fullers Mead, is a keen mountain walker and has already reached the top of various peaks including Mount Snowdon.

But after having had both hip and knee replacements, she admits that the climb to the top of Ben Nevis in Scotland on June 30 will be a tough challenge.

"For some people it wouldn't be difficult but it will be for me, she said. "I just hope the weather is good so I have some nice views once I complete it." The Labour councillor is taking on the challenge as a last fundraiser for her chosen charity for which she has already

"I'm always hearing that there is nothing for young people to do in Harlow so I looked around and found that they are lots of things for them," she said.

"But I thought about those young people who cannot undertake such things because they're caring for someone and their time is limited."

Anyone wanting to sponsor Mrs Stevens should contact her on (01279) 324183.

CCTV clue to suspect in assault at rail station

TRANSPORT police have this week released a CCTV image of a man they want to question in connection with an assault on an off-duty member of staff at Harlow Town station.

A 15-year-old boy from Harlow has been arrested and bailed in connection with the incident and officers have now released a picture of a second man they want to speak with. The incident took place in the station car park at 9.50pm on Sunday, May 2.

According to Detective Sergeant Dave Gritton, who is leading the investigation, the victim had just finished his shift and was making his way to his car when he was approached by two men.

"As he got into his car the pair refused to let him drive away. They attacked him before attempting to take his car keys and mobile phone."

The man resisted and eventually the pair ran off empty-handed. During the attack the victim suffered cuts and bruises to his face.

"We believe that the man in the picture may be from the local area and are appealing for anyone with information to come forward," said DS Gritton.

Call British Transport Police on 0800 405040.

Opening day for new barbershop

A FORMER footballer is swapping his boots for scissors as he prepares to open a unique new barbershop in Wych Elm.

Leo Roget, who played for Harlow Town, Southend and Oxford United and represented England at under-18 level, will open the doors to his latest venture – multi-cultural barbers Black & White – on Saturday. "Most places will either cater for white, black or Asian men specifically but Black & White is unique because it caters for everyone regardless of race.'

Local celebrity Jeff Brazier will perform a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10am, after which the shop will offer £5 haircuts all day as an opening special.

When town centre development

When town centre development manager Richard Dennery popped into the Star office during one of his frequent walks around the area he happened to mention the large chess board in the middle of Broad Walk. He wondered whether games might have been played in such a public place. There is nothing to say the board is just for chess. It might also have been used for draughts, a much-loved game of both young and old in days gone by. Coincidently, while rummaging through the overflowing container of local history that is the Nostalgia drawer, I stumbled across another reference to chess being played in giant form.

This time it was during the Town Show in 1972 when a huge chess game was planned using local schoolchildren as the pieces.

The idea was the brainchild of Harlow councillor Chris Cackett who, days before the event, spoke to the local press about the idea that came to him following a meeting of the council's entertainments committee.

"We sent out a letter to all the schools

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

asking if they would be interested in taking part in a chess competition," he said. "Then I thought it would be a great idea to play a game with people as the pieces.

"The board is going to be laid out on the grass as one of the side events at the Town Show ground, with Burnt Mill pupils playing white and Latton Bush pupils black.

"Once the pieces are put out of play they will fall over and we're having two stretcher bearers to run on and cart them off. It should be a great game."

Mr Cackett added that the chess theme would be very topical because, at the time, chess grandmasters Boris Spassky and Bobby Fischer were playing in the world championship.

Parndon Mill Art Gallery produced a large ceramic chess piece to publicise the game.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Country Music Festival

Harlow residents need no second invitation to don a 10-gallon hat and cowboy boots.

This newspaper cutting shows some of the crowd at the All British Country Music Festival held in the Town Park. It was supplied by local historian Ron Bill who believes the picture was taken during the festival in June 1978.

About 20,000 country music lovers turned up that year and, as can been seen from the picture, the weather was excellent.

Test tube triplets

Harlow's first test tube triplets were born at Princess Alexandra Hospital, ending eight years of heartache for their parents. The two boys and a girl are becoming the star attraction at the maternity unit.

School shocker

The prospect of children leaving school at the age of 14 – as suggested by the National Association of Head Teachers – has been greeted with horror in Harlow. MP Jerry Hayes said it would not assist young people's career prospects.

Cycle visitors

Harlow Cycling Club and the town's cycle museum played host to some keen two-wheel enthusiasts when the Pedal Club paid a visit to the town. The visitors, who praised the museum, brought with them a Dersley Pederson cycle.

A pub with spirit

A mischievous ghost haunts the Green Man in Old Harlow, helping himself to apple pie and trifle while moving pictures off the wall and frightening the staff. Receptionist Dawn Pedley (20) said it had moved her belongings around.

MP backs call for Gaza raid investigation

ROBERT HALFON: I deplore the loss of life and iniuries suffered by both sides during the

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon is supporting calls for an independent investigation into the Israeli commando raid on a Turkish aid flotilla carrying goods to the Gaza

Mr Halfon, who worked as a political adviser to the Conservative Friends Of Israel group before his general election victory last month, claimed the media had presented a one-sided view of Monday's raid which left nine people dead and many others wounded

It is believed the troops who stormed the vessels carrying thousands of tonnes of goods to the blockaded zone were attacked with bats and slingshots as they boarded the ships.

The UN Security Council has condemned the raid in international waters and called for a "prompt, impar-tial, credible, transparent" investigation.

Foreign Secretary Will-iam Hague has branded the raids "deplorable" while Prime Minister David Cameron is reported to have contacted Israeli premier Benjamin Netanyahu personally to register his con-

But this week Mr Halfon leapt to the defence of the Israeli armed forces. He told the Star: "It is important to remember that the flotilla was given every opportunity to stop and unload its cargo for inspec-tion but flatly refused. "Then, when the Israeli navy boarded the ship, they were attacked by individuals with a range of weapons, so some kind of conflagration was inevitable.

"However, I fully support the need for an independent investigation into what happened and I deplore the loss of life and the injuries suffered by both sides during the raid."

Mr Halfon said that if a suspicious ship had entered British waters without permission and refused to stop, the Royal Navy would have "justifiably boarded it in moments"

He added: "There is no doubt that this could have disastrous consequences in the Middle East and do great damage to ongoing efforts to secure peace.

Launch Pad to showcase new business ideas

DO you have a business dream but need help to turn it into reality? Then Launch Pad may be the answer.

Launch Pad, supported by the Star, is a competition for budding entrepreneurs to showcase their business ideas to a panel of experts. It aims to find someone from the Harlow and surrounding area with a winning business idea.

It is open to anyone over the age of 16 living in the town or the surrounding district (including Epping, North Weald, Sawbridgeworth, Bishop's Stortford and Stansted).

The winner will receive dedicated mentoring, advice and guidance from each of the six expert judges to support them in successfully launching their business idea.

Those chosen to take part will present their concepts and these will be streamed online for members of the public to vote for their favourite. Each week one idea will be selected for a place in the grand final, where the judges will select an overall

Launch Pad was the brainchild of Robert Ellice, managing director of property company Clarke Hillyer and local entrepreneur who, having grown up and worked in the area, wanted to provide a platform for people from the district to showcase their business ideas and have the opportunity to develop and turn them into reality.

The project has been brought to life by Bryan Hunt, who said: "Launch Pad was an idea that came around after we expanded Clarke Hillyer into

"From visiting various networking events it was apparent that the main topic of discussion was to try to encourage new businesses to come to the area. This then set the wheels in

BRYAN HUNT: 'I really feel this will give someone the boost they deserve to take that next step and launch their new business' motion to organise this initiative, which will not only see a brand new business start up in Harlow but will hopefully capture the imagination of the local public.

"I sincerely wish that this opportunity for local people inspires them enough to come forward with their ideas. I really feel that this will give someone the boost they deserve to take that next step and launch their new business.

Launch Pad is open to anyone over the age of 16 from Harlow and the surrounding district. The panel of judges are ready to listen to a pitch for any kind of business, but they must be convinced that there is a place for it in the market and that it will be a success. The strongest pitches will demonstrate:

- A unique selling point or place in the market: an idea that serves a need like nothing else.
- Scalability: something that can be scaled up to make real money or benefit a growing number of people
- Route to market: a clear way the idea can be delivered and marketed All applicants will be reviewed and a shortlist of the strongest ideas will be drawn up. The candidates will then be invited to present their concepts to the panel of experts.

Their presentations will be filmed by media course students from Harlow College and then uploaded on to the Launch Pad website. Members of the public will be invited to view the videos and vote for their favourite ideas.

Each week the candidate with the greatest number of votes will win a place in the grand final.

Once all the finalists have been selected, they will get the chance to present to the judges again and this time it will be the judges who decide which of the ideas they believe will be the next big thing.

Join the Midnight Walk and help Harlow's local hospice

WITH the countdown to the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk now standing at the 16-day mark, volunteers have been out and about in Harlow to sign up more recruits.

A team of volunteers were at the Asda store in the Water Gardens on Saturday to encourage weekend shoppers to join the hundreds of people who have already registered to take part in the 10km walk, which is supported by the Star.

Rachel Forth, from Asda, said "We are proud to be supporting the Midnight Walk for the third year now. It's such an amazing sight seeing all the pink T-shirts and bunny ears walking up and down the aisles before the walk starts.

"I've taken part in the walk before and it's such a fantastic atmosphere. This year the Asda Angels team is up to about 30 walkers. It's great hearing all the team member's fancy dress plans.

"A lot of staff members have lost someone they know to cancer or known someone who has been at St Clare Hospice so we're happy to be able to do our bit to give something back."

The walk takes place on Saturday, June 19. It will start from the Water Gardens in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm and head for Old Harlow before returning to the Water Gardens.

To take part you must first register. Registration costs £15 and is open to everyone aged 14 or over Giles Wright, communications manager for St Clare, said: "You can walk for fun, fitness or in memory of someone close to you. It's incredible how many people are taking part because they know someone who has been cared for so well by the hospice or is living with cancer or another life-limiting illness.

"This event is a way for us to organise something fun and different for the people of Harlow who support us throughout the year and keep the hospice service running."

Registration closes next Friday (June 11) so there are now only eight days left to sign up. Anyone who already has a registration form should return it as quickly as possible.

fundraiser, said: ""Last year's events fundraiser, said: ""Last year's event had over 1,600 take part, making it the biggest so far. But we want to beat that this year so we can raise even more towards the 24-hour-a-day specialist care we provide free of charge each and every day of the year "It's getting very exciting. The orders have gone in for the bunny ears and we're putting the entertainment plans together right now. It's not too late to sign up if you're quick."

Entertainment on stage will start at 8.30pm with music and games from Ten17, face-painting, zumba dancing and a fun warm-up session led by Harlow Sportcentre.

Jail threat to sex pest

A YOUNG man who groped a woman in a Harlow street has been warned by a judge that he could be jailed.

Ahmed Ali (20), of Occasio House, Playhouse Square, was arrested after his victim spotted him at the local job centre months after the attack.

Ali pleaded guilty to sexual assault between May 31 and July 1 last year. He appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Thursday when he was remanded in custody until June 21 for a pre-sentence report.

Adjourning sentence, Judge Christopher Ball told the defendant: "The court has in mind a custodial sentence."

The judge had earlier asked the probation service, which will prepare the report, to establish why Ali considered it "appropriate" to approach a strange woman in the street and sexually assault her.

Ali's legal representative, Neil Fitzgibbon told the judge the assault had involved touching the woman over her clothing in the early hours of the morning.

Mr Fitzgibbon urged the judge to pass a sentence which would allow Ali to retain his freedom, taking into account the time he had already served in custody.

But Judge Ball told him: "These sort of episodes can have much more dire consequences.

"While it is tempting to treat sexual assaults as relatively minor, alarm bells ring. He's essentially accosted her, pesters her in the street and sexually gropes her."

Police searching for stolen bike's owner

POLICE have appealed for help to track the owner of a motorbike which they believe may have been stolen from Harlow.

The bike was seized by officers executing a search warrant at an address in Herons Wood.

It is white with 'ghost trix' written on the side and the number 64 on the rear wing.

An 18-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of handling stolen goods and has been bailed to appear at Harlow police station on June 26.

If anyone recognises the bike they should contact PC Tim Scott at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 extension 20346.

Questions about council shake-up

SIR, I had to write down my thoughts about the recent annual council meeting where the new committee structure was announced by the Tory administration as a trial exercise with six months of consultation (Star, May 27).

We were told that it would bring about "open and transparent democracy" but I have some real issues with that statement.

Firstly, why was the Labour group not informed about the system until a few days earlier? When I received the agenda for the meeting a week ago there was no mention of a new structure.

The system of executive committee plus five policy working parties and the other five committees that are already in place will make the council more efficient.

Why did the local press know about it before opposition councillors and even some council staff? Surely with such a major change being introduced we should all have had more than a few days notice.

The new system could potentially lead to a cabinet system. Another comment made by the administration was that this new system has been introduced across the country. Harlow has been, and will always be, a unique place to live. We have brought into the town such things as neighbourhood forums, the Leah Manning Centre and anti-social behaviour

During the six months of consultation the people of Harlow will make up their own minds on the way forward for this new system. But how many times have the Tory administration undertaken consultation and then ignored the way people have responded opposition to wheelie bins, car parking charges, threats to the welfare and advice centre.

We should all of us be here to serve the people of Harlow fairly and honestly, so when the consultation is undertaken we must listen to the results and then act accordingly. Nothing less will do.

Councillor Maggie Hulcoop Carters Mead, Harlow

Who'll now invest in regeneration?

SIR. Am I alone in wondering why on earth anyone would want to invest hundreds of millions of pounds in the regeneration of half of a town shopping centre where potential customers are very thin on the ground?

We have acres of sheds such as B&Q and dozens upon dozens of stores plus two Tesco branches, an Asda and Sainsbury's – and all of them offer free parking.

While car parking charges go up and up and up, the Gestapo in the guise of parking snoopers watch avidly for the odd person to go one minute over time in the car parks at the town centre.

Rates and rents are at astronomically unaffordable levels for anything other than large outlets and this is reflected in the number

Runway U-turn is not good for jobs

SIR, It was interesting that the first we have heard from our new MP is to welcome the decision of BAA to scrap its plan for a second runway at Stansted Airport.

His first action for the constituency is to welcome a lost opportunity for jobs, wealth and growth for Harlow. It is clearly intended to please the minority of the town's constituents.

In his election campaign Mr Halfon stated he was fully behind jobs for Harlow. It clearly did not take him long to revert to the Tory elitism to support the wealthy and affluent well-to-do minority living in the villages.

It appears he is more intent on ensuring that a small selection of villagers' concerns over noise issues is far more important than the rest of Harlow's opportunity to gain employment.

Conservatives in the election campaign made reference to top businessmen and their opinion on the so-called tax on jobs. Why does Mr Halfon not consider the opinion of some of the same businessmen when they say this is a bad decision for Harlow and a bad decision for business?

How will this coalition government seriously be able to take action against the longterm unemployed, forcing them to pick up litter and clean up our town when they deprive the same people of opportunity? of empty shops that have odds and ends in windows to make them look less forlorn.

Lakeside and Bluewater are also within easy driving distance and neither of them screw money out of shoppers for parking their cars, which means they don't get £60 stolen from them for being a minute late in getting back to them! Do we really need more sheds?

Scooter drivers should be tested

SIR, Having read your front page story a few week's ago about the OAP in an accident in his mobility scooter, I am glad nobody involved was seriously hurt.

Although I didn't witness that particular incident I have seen some near misses with mobility scooters in the town centre due to the drivers of these vehicles driving too fast or not looking where they are going.

Some legislation needs to be brought in where people need a proper driving test to use them like any vehicle and be shown how to cross roads and not drive on them like so many seem to do.

People like the OAP in your story need these scooters to get around but there are quite a few people who don't. I have witnessed some parking their scooters and then walking around the shops.

Maybe not just anyone should be allow to purchase or hire them out unless they are seriously disabled.

Celebrating work of childminders

SIR, I wanted to let readers know that 40,000 members of the National Childminding Association will be celebrating National Childminding Week from June 12-

The week, which has the theme Reaching The Right Notes, will see childminders and nannies holding musical events to highlight the work they do to support children and families locally.

This year a special song, An Ode to Childminding, has been written by Piccolo Music. Registered childminders, nannies and their children will be performing the song and making music at events all over England and Wales. Music and fun are just one part of the varied activities and learning experiences a registered childminder can provide.

So if anyone would like more information about the week, more information about registered childminders and nannies or details of how to become a registered childminder or nanny, they should visit www.ncma.org.uk

Business exhibition a first for the town

TIME is running out for companies wanting to take part in Harlow's first-ever dedicated business exhibition.

The massive networking event will be held at Harlow Stadium, in Roydon Road, on June 15.

It will offer local firms the chance to forge new contacts and meet potential new customers.

The event is free to attend and is expected to attract in the region of 500 visitors.

Companies already registered to take part in the event range from advertising firms to air conditioning experts.

Co-organiser David Smith, who runs the local business website thebestofharlow.com, told the Star: 'We have had a lot of interest in the exhibition and it is shaping up to be a great event.

"It will be the first of its kind in the town and will offer local businesses a unique opportunity to network, build up contacts and find new customers.

"Other towns in the area have long held exhibitions of this kind and we thought it was about time Harlow had a similar event to show off what the town has to offer.

"There are only a few stands left so time is running out for firms who want to be part of the event, although we are still on the lookout for businesses interested in advertising in the brochure or sponsoring the exhibition."

A stand at the exhibition costs £250 plus VAT. For more information or to book a place, log on to www.harlowbusinessexhibition.co.uk.

A fish with microchips

It may sound like something out of an episode of Dr Who, but robotic fish could soon be patrolling the seas, rivers and lakes around Britain.

The 'robofish' will be able to detect pollution in the water and send vital information back to conservation

They can communicate with each other and swim around freely without needing to be controlled by humans. Scientists hope the fish will be able to spot dangerous chemicals using high-tech chemical sensors and help stop damage to the environment.

A shoal of robofish is set to be released off northern Spain as part of a three-year test project.

The team behind the robots say they could be used in rivers, lakes and seas across the world to detect pollution.

Each robot will cost a whopping £20,000 to make and will measure 1.5m in length, which is roughly the size of a seal.

Nature reserve just perfect for puppets

By CHRIS MOSS

PARNDON Wood Nature Reserve will be transformed into an enchanting Forest Of Fables on Saturday afternoon when it hosts a magical half-term puppet show. Taking place amid the beautiful surroundings of the reserve's ancient woodland, the dazzling show is produced by award-winning theatre company Idolrich and brings Aesop's fables to life with incredible antics, colourful characters, visual excitement and musicality rolled into one amazing puppet extravaganza.

Once the sun is out in the Forest Of Fables, the woodland's fantastical characters stir to life. Loud-mouthed Lion has a gnat in his ear, Fox runs nose to ground in search of delicious cheese and Spider knits and swings from the branches of the trees

Before the show starts at 3pm there will be a free workshop at 1.30pm for ticketholders where youngsters will have the chance to make their own puppet animal from newspapers which they must take with them on the day.

The best puppet creations will feature in the performance, while those taking part can also learn the songs from the

Hitman Chris swaps council chamber for festival stage

GUNS, bungling assassins, sparkling wit and exotic food – you'll be hard-pushed to find any of these at your average council meeting.

But for one Harlow councillor preparing to tread the boards in the national final of an amateur theatre contest this weekend, a combination of all of the above could well see him triumph in the toughest test yet of his acting credentials.

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington, pictured right, takes the role of a grouchy hitman in The Wadham Players' critically-acclaimed adaptation of Harold Pinter's black comedy The Dumb Waiter in the final of the All-England Theatre Festival on Saturday.

Chris received rave reviews for his performance in a recent festival in East Grinstead and now hopes to impress the judges again as his group comes up against the cream of the country's amateur thespians.

"This is a tremendous opportunity to show what we can do," he said. "It's the first time the group has made it to this stage and we've had a lot of fun getting here.

"We've been up against theatre groups with bigger budgets and more members, so we're very proud to have made it this far."

Pinter's deliciously dark drama unfolds as hitmen Ben and Gus wait for orders about their unidentified next target. Their comical squabbling is punctuated by the occasional delivery of seemingly random food orders via a dumb waiter.

"Performing Pinter is undoubtedly challenging," said Chris. "One thing I love about his writing is the way he uses pauses and silence to such great effect, which can often be very difficult to act out.

"It's a very funny play but it's a comedy of menace. It's really quite sinister in

If the play wins Saturday's All-England Final, The Wadham Players will go on to represent England in the UK Finals.

Lifeless remake of a Brit comedy is fatally flawed

DEATH AT A FUNERAL certificate 15 1h32m

REMAKES have become the scourge of a Hollywood system starved of creativity and imagination.

No sooner has a subtitled film won critical plaudits than there are whispers of an English language retread. And it now seems British films simply aren't good enough for audiences across the Atlantic because director Neil LaBute has remade the 2007 comedy of errors, Death At A Funeral, transplanting the action to a middle class suburb of Los Angeles.

When their father dies, Aaron (Chris Rock) and his novelist brother Ryan (Martin Lawrence) rush to the side of their mother, Cynthia (Loretta Devine). Cousin Elaine (Zoe Saldana) and her boyfriend Oscar (James Marsden) arrive for the funeral service, while Aaron's wife Michelle (Regina Hall), who is desperate to fall pregnant, endures barbed quips from Cynthia.

Curmudgeonly wheelchair user Uncle Russell (Danny Glover) kicks up a stink – literally – before a mislabelled bottle of

The sombre mood is shattered when a stranger called Frank (Peter Dinklage) arrives with a shocking secret about the deceased.

Determined to protect the people they love, Aaron and Ryan join forces to bury their old man and all of the skeletons from the family closet.

Death At A Funeral will be of no interest to audiences who saw the original film. The whiff of homophobia in the British version becomes an eye-watering stench here as the family wrestles with revelations about one character's alleged homosexuality.

Dean Craig, who penned the original screenplay, tweaks the dialogue. However, he does not change the plot or the thinly sketchy characters. It's a thoroughly pointless exercise.

Marsden embraces his slapstick role with gusto, stripping off for a set piece on the roof after telling the assembled mourners: "The coffin is moving!" Sadly, LaBute's film is as lifeless as the patriarch at the centre of the recriminations.

BMW leads the efficiency drive

With an engine tuned to run cleaner and greener and the inclusion of an ignition stop-start system to low rolling resistance tyres, subtle aerodynamic improvements, a gear shift indicator and modified gear ratios, BMW 320d Efficient Dynamics is something of a game-changer. IAIN DÖOLEY uch has been the pace of progress in a few short years that we've come a long way from the novelty of cars with low CO<sup>2</sup> ratings. Even engine stop-start systems are steadily becoming the norm.

No company can take more credit for exposing the motoring public to such things more than BMW. Through the German firm's Efficient Dynamics programme, numerous cars within its range boast class-leading levels of CO<sup>2</sup> and economy figures.

Just when rival manufacturers think they've gotten close to BMW it moves the goalposts again. Digging deeper to further reduce emissions and fuel consumption, it's the end user with growing tax bill that than with BMW's new 3 Series model, the 320d Efficient Dynamics variant. It might sound ungainly, but BMW has thrown the high-tech kitchen sink at its key, fleet-friendly model in a bid to get the numbers to new highs – and lows.

Although BMW's range has grown in recent years, the 3 Series remains a cornerstone of the line-up. This is most obvious in the compact premium fleet sector, and when you're paying serious sums in tax you want your car to keep most of your hard-earned money in your wallet.

So important is the company car market to BMW in the UK that it lobbied hard for its German bosses to agree to a superefficient 3 Series to maintain its already strong position in the market.

And what a car it got. At the end of the day it's a numbers game in the fleet sector, and the numbers are stunning. Boasting a  $CO^2$ figure better than most superminis and equally impressive combined economy figure of 68mpg, only the taxman is likely to be disappointed. This is no real-world compromise, though. At this car's heart is a 163 horsepower, four-cylinder diesel motor capable of outputting a healthy 280lb/ft of torque, helping to send the car on its way to 62mph in a very un-green eight seconds.

As a showcase for what's possible – and affordable – this particular 3 Series nails it. The kitchen sink approach to the underlying technology works as you'd expect. We're all used to seeing various Efficient Dynamics elements on an increasing number of BMW models, and this 320d has it all.

From an engine tuned to run cleaner and greener and the inclusion of an ignition stopstart system to low rolling resistance tyres, subtle aerodynamic improvements, a gear shift indicator and modified gear ratios, all these individual features combine to deliver that magic 109g/km CO2 figure and,

road tax on a par with a 1.0 city

On the road this car drives like any other 160-odd horsepower 3 Series. This is good news, as the last thing you want is to have to modify your driving style to achieve the sky-high mpg figure. Being realistic, it's likely that the car will be driven sensibly by the fleet community, making it a relatively easy job to keep the fleet manager happy and the expense account solvent.

There's no bone-hard ride and engine and road noise has been kept to a pleasing minimum, pretty much as you'd expect from any 3 Series BMW.

As an example of what can be done to reduce emissions and fuel consumption, this 3 Series is an impressive achievement. That it has been done without any hint of a compromise regarding the driving and ownership experience shows that making savings doesn't have to hurt. And remember, this is a compact executive saloon we're talking about here, not some city car with only enough room for a

If you think this is impressive, just think what's possible with the rest of its range. As it stands. this 3 Series is something of a for your vehicle? Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way. What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD)

A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF: B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Seven deadly wins!

LUKE Bowen led the charge as Rye House Rockets registered their seventh Premier League win in as many starts when they defeated Workington Monday.
A 5-1 from Kyle

Hughes and Harlow racer Bowen in Heat 14 finally killed off any lin-Workington gering hopes of a match point by taking the score to 53-34, before Linus Sundstrom completed his unbeaten day by sneaking past Chris Schramm in the nominated race.

Their impressive start to the season means the Hoddesdon-based club retain the only unbeaten record in any of the three British speedway leagues, and they also remain on top of the Premier League table.

A five-ride maximum for Sundstrom, an impressive 13-point haul from Jordan Frampton and the track record for skipper Chris Neath were the highlights of the Rockets' victory.

Despite the final winning margin, however, this match was far from onesided, with the Comets providing plucky opposition. Rusty Harrison proved a trump card as a reserve, supplying both their race wins and topping their score chart.

The Rockets made the perfect start, with Neath and Stefan Ekberg blasting a 5-1 in the opening race as the Rye captain claimed Tai Woffinden's track record with a new fastest time of 55.1 seconds.

Workington pulled a 4-2 back in the next heat after Kurt Shields had ploughed through the fourth bend safety fence, but a further maximum from Frampton Bowen and against Schramm took the hosts 12-6 clear. That advantage was quickly extended to eight points after Frampton drove past Andre Compton to win Heat 5, and then by a further two as Ekberg passed both Richard Lawson and Peter Kildemand to ensure another 4-2 in the next race.

Frampton brilliantly passed both Comets in a single movement and win

Heat 12.

Rockets scorers: Chris Neath 8 (from four rides); Stefan Ekberg 7+2 (4); Jordan Frampton 13 (5); Luke Bowen 6+2 (4); Linus Sundstrom 15 (5); Kurt Shields 1 (3); Kyle Hughes 7 (5).

Jared and John take pride of place

Running

JARED Bethell and John Tennant took pride of place among the Harlow Running Club contingent who completed the Hatfield Broad Oak 10K road race on Bank Holiday Monday. Bethell was the first Harlow finisher, coming 23rd from 1,276 finishers in a personal best (PB) of 35 minutes and 6 seconds.

He was followed home by Tennant, who was 10th in 39:38. He also won the 60 veteran trophy and set a new vet 60 best time for Harlow Running Club.

Harry Woodward may be 82 but this did not stop him from clocking a superb one hour 10 mins 49 secs. He was 1,245th, finishing ahead of 30 much younger runners.

Mackenzie Steve was the third Harlow finisher (39:43) and Jamie Jephcott clocked the same time as him to record a PB. Dionne Jones was the first Harlow female finisher (292nd, 44:32) and she was followed Sharon home Wright (305th place, 44:46 PB).

There were also PBs There were also PBs for Ryan Johnson (44:25; 294th). Butler was not surprised Khawaja was once again the highest scorer.

He said: "Ahmed is playing unbelievably at the moment. He is seeing it like a football at the moment and just hits it over the bowlers' heads. He goes for it.

He added: "The test will come for us as a side when he gets out for 0 or 1. Before last year he did not play on Saturdays and if we go up, it will be interesting to see how he handles the quicker bowlers.

Rain spells lost opportunity

JAMES Butler has urged Harlow not to be distracted by a lost opportunity last weekend when they host Stanford-le-Hope this coming Saturday. The Marigolds side are now second and two points behind Buckhurst Hill after being frustrated by the bad weather at Leigh-on-Sea on Saturday.

Harlow were in a great position after reaching 166-2 from 25 overs before rain forced an abandonment which meant just six points for both sides, while the weather relented enough elsewhere for three positive results.

Harlow's vice-captain Butler said: "You could say we could have won but these things happen. Last year I remember we won at Harold Wood when everybody else was rained off.

"Stanford won against Old Southendians [last Saturday] and are capable of turning sides over and we have to look at just winning games from now on."

After losing Lee Jessey for 15 and Butler for 4, Harlow dominated in the short time available at Leigh.

In-form Ahmed Khawaja made 83 not out while skipper Jason McNally struck 54 not out before the weather intervened.

Daggers get Green light

Winger a Wembley

DAVID RIMMER

HAVING fulfilled every schoolboy's dream by scoring in a Wembley final, Harlow's Danny Green is looking forward to life in Coca-Cola League One.
Former St Mark's School student Green, 21, netted as Dagenham & Redbridge beat Rotherham United 3-2 to clinch promotion.

The winger, from Rundells, scored Daggers' second goal with a marvellous 20-yard strike that gave Rotherham keeper Andy Warrington no chance in Sunday's League Two play-off final. His corner also resulted in the winner from Jon Nurse. Green's all-round performance, not least his dribbling skills, earned him the man-of-thematch award match award.

He said: "I had always dreamed of scoring at Wembley and it is the best feeling I have had in my life.

"My Dad [Richard] always told me to shoot across goal and make the keeper work. To see my name up there as being man-of-the-match was a special feeling."

Professional football has certainly been a rollercoaster ride for Green who signed a three-year deal at Northampton Town after leaving St Mark's.

He later joined former Cup winners European Nottingham Forest.

However, a series of knee injuries almost cost him his

He was released by Forest and Green subsequently joined Bishop's Stortford in the 2008-09 season, after being lured by former Arsenal striker Martin Hayes, then manager of the Herts club. "This gave me a chance to get back into football. Martin Hayes and Mark Simpson gave me the confiUP FOR THE CUP:

dence and if you do well clubs will notice," Green said. He signed for Daggers last

"When I came to Dagenham I was looking at maybe playing 20 league games but I have played almost 50 games and scored 14 goals. It has gone very well."

He added: "[Boss] John Still has given me the confidence to go out and express myself."

Daggers twice held the lead before Nurse's 70th-minute winner.

"It was quite nerve-wrack-ing but we have a really good spirit," said Green.

"The last four minutes seemed to go by really slowly. When the final whistle went it was a relief. It was an indescribable feeling to help get promotion."

He added: "The pitch was quite good. I do not know what the [top players] are moaning about but they play on top surfaces like The Emirates and Old Trafford.

"If we can keep the same players and make some signings we can do well in League One. The main aim is to stay there. We will be playing clubs like Southampton, Charlton and Swindon.'

Danny's father Richard Green added: "We are really proud of him and it was a great day. To score [and win] at Wembley is unbelievable. We are even more proud that he is such a nice young man.'

Four sign for Hawks as summer spree goes on

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren has been boosted by the capture of four players for next season.

Warren has picked up left-back Mark Duckett from Zamaretto Southern League premier division from Ryman division one side Brackley Town. Ex-Bishop's Stortford player Sosthene Yao has signed from Ryman League premier side AFC Hornchurch, midfielder Ben Bradbury has joined north outfit Tilbury and right-back Dan Harvey has switched from Maldon.

Warren said: "Mark can play on the left and leftback is his strongest position.

"He will add solidity to the back four and can deal with wingers well. He is very passionate and I am sure he will become a fans favourite." Warren expects Ivorian Yao to shine, as well as
